Assassination Attempt in Tipped Tankard

Last Saturday evening a brutal murder attempt took place in the Tipped Tankard. Target of the cowardly attack were our local heroes, Ghoewin's Chosen. Many innocent bystanders were killed during the fight. Two of the assaulters were killed, but one escaped. The reason of the attack still remains a mystery.

Where is the Lord-Mayor?

Rumors about the Lord Mayor's whereabouts are circulating in the city. While according to some sources Severen Navalant supposedly left for Sasserine last week, others claim he caught a strange illness and has to keep bed. Fact is that the Lord-Mayor hasn't been seen in public for almost two weeks. No information has been dispatched from official side until now.

Wee Jas Temple Closed

Parishioners of the Veiled Lady's temple were unpleasantly surprised when they wanted to visit their temple last Godsdag. Despite Ike Iverson's promise of a grand opening ritual to celebrate the completion of the cathedral, the doors remained closed. Calmus Vel declared in a short statement that some of the renovation works are still underway and that the church therefore cannot guarantee the flock's safety.

Stormblades Defeated

Luck has turned against our brave Stormblades. Investigating a possible Kuo-Tua incursion deep below the caverns under Cauldron they barely survived a vicious ambush. Unfortunately, but understandingly, Annah was not willing to disclose any further details.
